PROSPERITY IS ONCE MORE IN FINANCIAL AIR

CROP RECEIPTS WILL RE-ESTABLISH WEST

Toronto, Sept. 23.—Once more events in the United States impinge directly on Canadian finance. For with the virtual cessation of the rail-way shippers' strike across the border, the threatened outbreak on Canadian lines is pretty effectively disposed of. Once more, too, is coal free to flow into industrial Ontario, to replace the supply which had been dangerously low.

The settlement of the coal strike marks almost an open in the economic life of the country. Insofar as one can judge contemporary events it would appear that the worst battles of the post-war period are about over. In a broad sense it has been decided, as a result of the long series of contests between employer and labor, which have crippled industrial efficiency for the last half year, that the inflated wage-standards of 1920-21 cannot persist, but that, on the other hand, the demand for the advances which workmen succeeded in wresting during the war and post-war period will be permanently met. Employers have found it necessary to maintain wages on a higher scale than has been destroyed, and have been compelled to accept something less than this. This contest, however, bears a strong resemblance to the finality, and it is in one under which much progress can be made.

Text of statement:

"Curious misapprehensions exist as to what Great Britain wants. She is seeking nothing for herself and is pursuing no short-sighted policy of her own, nor one based on amercement. Such considerations do not arise here.

"The supreme interest—no modification of which can be entertained—is the effective neutralization of the straits and a full guarantee of free navigation for all countries under the league of nations or some other effective international organization. Text of statement: "All other matters at issue are secondary and subject to peaceful" as commodities between Turkey and the states more directly concerned. While the British government is completing all naval, military and air measures to safeguard the neutrality of the straits, and is covering positions, there is no desire in any way to precipitate hostilities. War, in fact, will never come about, only if provoked by acts of the Kemalists forces were occupied by the allies at the armistice and held consistently as neutral territory throughout the hostilities between Greece and Turkey.

The issue of the situation, therefore, is in the hands of Kemal. There is no reason to suppose that he will insist on putting once more to the test of force questions which the allies wish to have settled by conference.

BIBLE ADDRESS AT ST. LUKE'S

The third address on the Book of Genesis was delivered on Thursday last by the Rev. Arthur Murphy, M. A., before a large audience. The subject was, 'Seth to the confusion of Tongues; Genesis, Chap. 11.'

The lecturer began by saying that God's plan for mankind was that every comfort, blessing and happiness should be found in Himself, and that apart from Him no real happiness could exist. This world is full of attractions, many of them illicit and dangerous; there is a constant war being waged between goodness and sin, between righteousness and unrighteousness. The fundamental doctrine, Creation into Creation, was explained. Between the 1st Creation of Genesis and the new Creation foretold in the Revelation we are placed, capable of looking back to a great work of God's, and also of looking forward to a far greater work—the New Heavens and New Earth, permanent and perfect, revealed to St. John by God when the aged Apostle was exiled on the island of Patmos. Several references to the creation of these new spheres were given, especially those out of Isaiah. The lecturer drew a comparison between the two Creations, the former transitory, imperfect, corrupt, full of sin and sorrow, and the latter permanent and perfect, replete with brightness, happiness and comfort.

The first sacrificial offering mentioned in the Bible, that of Cain and Abel, was discussed at length, and acceptable to God, not only because it was carefully chosen and valuable, but because it was offered sincerely, as a substitute for sin, and in a humble spirit of faith and love. Abel's offering was a type, and a prelude to the sacrifice on the Cross. On the other hand, Cain's offering was rejected, since it did not contain any of these characteristics.

Mankind is divided into two great classes: (1) Those who are the children of God; and (2) those who are the children of the devil. The latter are the seed of the serpent (Satan) and who are following him. Next, the lecturer spoke of the three great phases of the church: (a) The Antediluvian Church of Genesis 1, covering a period of 165 years, with its great outstanding heroes, Adam, Seth, Enos, Cainan, Mahalaleel, Jareth, Enoch, Methuselah, Lamech, and Noah, all types of Christ; (b) The church in the wilderness with its tabernacle and ark, and priesthood; (c) The Church of Christ.

The Antediluvian Apostasy had its origin in the fact that the first man, God's only one who (at a time) had been made in the divine image, took two wives, and the wife he loved sinned in the same way, thus bringing in the flood of sin, which resulted in the overthrow of mankind by the Deluge or Flood in Noah's day. Again, the contrast was drawn between the law to be furthered by the will of God, for we read that, after Seth's birth, his family, who were the righteous descendants, which was entirely contrary to God's command.

In conclusion, Mr. Murphy pointed out that the Ark that Noah was commanded to build was in many respects a remarkable type of Jesus Christ and of safety through Him. It was the only possible means of saving "Noah and his family from perishing by water," so Christ is the only means by which men may be safe from the peril of the waves of this troublesome world. There was one door in the material ark; there is only one door by which mankind can approach to safety and salvation—"I am the door," says our Lord. The door being in the side of the ark is a symbol of our entry into heaven by the side (the pierced side) of Christ.

Again, the three stories in the ark material typify the three spheres of the ark spiritual, each being more complete, wonderful and comfortable than the one beneath.

"The Lord said them in" (Genesis 1:3). As though with one hand God were holding the door securely shut, and with the other was warding off danger and directing the rudderless ark to safety, so God will with His word save us, and with the other would direct and defend His children.

The next address will (D.V.) be given on Thursday next (tomorrow) at 8 p.m. sharp in the church. Everyone is most warmly invited. Subject: The Confusion of Tongues to Abraham. Gen. Chap. 11-12. (a) The Impetuosity of their design. (b) The magnitude of their enterprise. (c) The inspection of their work. (d) The confusion of their tongues. (e) The dispersion of their ranks. (f) The memorial of their folly.

ONLY WITH THE MIND'S EYE, SIR
A humorous correspondent inquires if we've ever seen these things:
A man moving to the suburbs.
Anyone sitting in the lap of luxury.
A contingency in the act of looting.
An onerous request on a man's behalf.
A public speaker weighing his words.
A hawk on the way back.
A man answering the welkin when it rains.
Anyone capping a climax.
A man bearing a brunt, taking up cudgels or being hoist with his own petard.

GENERALLY ANCESTORS

(From the New York Evening Post)
They were slight-seeing in Boston and had reached the South Church of Revolutionary fame. A dark, custodian, who looked as though he might have been a Revolutionary days, showed them about. His shabby black finger pointed the empty pews with his hand. "You see, these are the seats of the notables of long ago. He could tell you just who sat there."

"13" FATAL NUMBER OF DR. BRUMFIELD DEN-TIST MURDERER

Extraordinary Chain of "13's" is Fate That Pursued Dead Criminal.

"Thirteen" has been quoted frequently as the unlucky number of the ages, but little has been found in the annals of crime known to Calgary police that compares with the case of Dr. M. Brumfield, of Rosenberg, Oregon, who recently committed suicide in jail at Salem, Oregon, while awaiting the death penalty for murder. The fate that pursued Dr. Brumfield on the "unlucky 13," forms one of the most extraordinary coincidences in the history of criminality. It will be remembered he was arrested here by officers of the city and mounted police following information from the States.

Trace Fatal "13" Career
The murder features of Dr. Brumfield's criminal career had "13" attached and throughout all the proceedings the fatal number followed up to the very day of his death. He was convicted on a charge of murdering a neighbor and endeavoring to strangle the body by burning it in an overturned automobile, so the authorities would believe it was Dr. Brumfield himself. The idea was evidently one of a fatal dream in order that a heavy sentence might be passed on him, and when he disappeared to continue his life with another woman.

Circumstances, however, disclosed the identity of the murdered man and Brumfield's actions were investigated. It was found that he had disappeared entirely, but later his arrest was effected at a farm south of Calgary, where he was working under an assumed name. The feature, however, that most interested the reader of today is the fact that "13" was Brumfield's unlucky date and number. He was married on July 13, 1921. He was arrested in Calgary on August 13, and taken back to Rosenberg, where his trial commenced on Sept. 13. On October 13 he was sentenced to be hanged on January 13, 1922. Pending an appeal and other proceedings to ascertain definitely the prisoner's sanity, the execution was postponed. He died by hanging himself in his cell on Sept. 13.

Carried with an American company ended in "13," and the cell in which he was incarcerated while at Portland, awaiting the death penalty, was "13."

A SERMONETTE

By Rev. M. G. Offerman
Let us not dread burdens, let us court them.
Moses bore the burdens of his generation. Jesus, the burden of our sins. Augustine of his generation, Saviour of his, Luther of his, the Wesley brothers of theirs. Ransomed of our present generation.

The crown of genuine heavy gold is given only to one who has done the dregs.
To live a responsible life is very hard. Blended are the responsible men, for on them frail women depend. The necessary strength for burden-carrying will come from our design, you sink beneath the load others will carry it further.

Your reward will be an accomplishment itself; also, Time and Eternity will reward.

Questions Each Foolish Wife Should Ask Herself

Brich von Strobel, director of the million dollar "Foolish Wives," wants to know if you are a foolish wife?
If you can answer these questions in the affirmative, you are a foolish wife.
"Do you nag your husband when he comes home at night after a hard day in the office?"
"Do you tell him that Mrs. Jones has a limousine and a diamond brooch and that you must have them, too?"
"Do you go into details about the baby's food and Mrs. Gossamer's who came to call?"
"Do you use him as a foil for your thoughts of another man?"
"Do you secretly hope that romance with a capital R will come into your life—regardless of your husband?"
"Do you tell him that he isn't stylish like Mr. Gravenhol, whose cravens are impeccable?"
"Do you keep books or do you sign checks and forget to enter the amounts on the stub?"
"Do you taunt your husband with failure and compare him with some dishonest rascal, who makes a lot of money at the expense of innocent persons?"
"Do you dress up for other men and cold cream your face and put your hair in knotters for your husband?"
"Do you criticize his personal appearance and wonder if you don't fuss at him about his poorly kept nails?"
"Do you insist on buying his shirts and scarfs and choosing his suits and their design?"
"Do you invite your friends to a party and 'lazz' it up with his private stock?"
"Do you secretly make a bid for the admiration of other men and then deny all knowledge of it when 'Friend Husband' becomes suspicious?"
"Do you accept presents from other men and hide them from your husband?"

SO SWEET OF HER (From Tit-Bits)

"Yes," Mr. Billings said, reluctantly, in reply to his friend's remark that Mrs. Joyce was "an awfully sweet little woman."
"So cheerful. Always sunny! Always looking on the bright side!" Billings' friend continued enthusiastically.
"There's such a thing as overdoing that 'bright side' business!" said Billings. "The other night I was at their place, and Joyce—you know how absent-minded he is—put the lighted end of his cigar in his mouth. He jumped three feet, and was a little noisy for a minute. In the middle of it all Mrs. Joyce smiled blandly and said:
"How fortunate you were, dear, to discover it at once!"

BOLSHEVISTS NOT RUSSIAN

No treaties, no agreements, no attempts to palliate by colorful words the savagery of Bolshevik rule in Russia. The fact that the Russia which the Bolsheviks have ruined has nothing to give so long as the Bolsheviks retain power, and that all credits given to the Bolsheviks will simply be devoted to the perpetuation of the system destructive to all forms of free and normal production. Russia is one thing. The Bolsheviks are something entirely different. They have enslaved Russia for the time being—London Times.

NO ROOM FOR AGITATORS

Apologies of the deportation from the United States of a Polish agitator named Kowalski, the London Advertiser believes that the same medicine would be good for a few of the ultra radicals who have found their way to Canada. The agitator deported from the United States because he was considered a nuisance and a menace. His idea was that they should have the same form of government in United States that they had in Russia. Later on he was arrested for not having stayed out of the country, and his explanation was: "He was sick and tired of Russia." As the advertiser remarks: "In Canada we have radicals and nation-smashers who want to talk bolshevism on this country. They are not content to come and live here and work here. They make a better living as agitators than they can as laborers, hence their role as agitators. Canada has to grant freedom of thought to the people of the Dominion, but there are well-defined limits past which we have no license to go. Outsiders who come here are not called upon or requested to preach the doctrines of Lenin and Trotsky. When they persist in so doing it must be excellent business to head them back to Russia, where in 24 hours they can have a stomach full of the stuff they want to dump on us."

ALBERTA BONDS BOUGHT BY NEW YORK INTERESTS

Edmonton, Sept. 21.—Three millions of twenty-year province of Alberta gold debentures, bearing interest at five per cent, were sold by the National City Company of New York and Montreal, represented here by the Bank of Montreal, through which the tender was made, the price being $73.34. The sale is for the entire issue, the proceeds of which are to be used by the government for refunding purposes. Eight bidders completed all offering good prices, and indicating a strong desire to secure Alberta securities. The offer accepted by the bank at 6.22 rate, as compared with 5.19 in the recent Saskatchewan sale. It is regarded by both the treasury officials and financial men as an excellent sale, particularly in view of the unsettling effects upon the money market of the Near Eastern situation. The issue will be the last that Alberta will make this year, all the capital expenditure required for 1923 having been provided in previous sales.

THE HELL-BROTHER

(Winnipeg Tribune)

The nations and peoples concerned in the Near Eastern situation are many. Great Britain, France, Italy, Turkey, Greece, Bulgaria, Rumania, Russia, Persia, Arabia, India, Germany, Poland, Mesopotamia and Palestine are all involved in greater or less degree in the brewing there a hell-broth, and so far only Great Britain is seriously endeavoring to put out the fire under the pot. The strong enough to handle the situation and ably second the British efforts. Up to the present the extended assistance has been really a drawback, not an aid. But there are signs that a reversal of policy. At present Great Britain stands alone, which is the reason for her isolation for assurances of the support of the dominions.

Take them one at a time. Great Britain is trying to protect Mesopotamia, upon which both Russia and Turkey are casting long shadows. The Arabs are also restless. The British protectorate is necessary there because any power that attempts to keep it independent, and because it covers the road to India. Britain is trying to bring about a settlement in the Near East, and she is also restless, for the sake of the Jewish people promised passage to the Holy Land. The British is trying to keep the Dardanelles neutral, as an essential point in avoiding war. Britain is trying to prevent a "holy war" of Moslems against Christians, never a formidable menace that at present Britain knows also that if the Turks cross the Bosphorus by a display of sufficient military strength. If it is not the policy Britain would have chosen for preference, but it is the only one possible under the circumstances.

France has followed for a couple of years a policy of encouraging the Turk Nationalism, and she is now trying to protect her own interests in Syria, and partly to force Britain's hand in the Near East. France has had disastrous effects, as France is beginning to become aware, she cannot today support a vigorous policy toward Germany, for Germany would now laugh at threats of force in view of the Russian revolution in the Near East. France sees also Russia, whom she regards as her deadly enemy, and she is not likely to withdraw support from French policy and plunge into earnest war with the Turk. All in all, the reasons for her policy for mingling, and her policy is veering round to support of Great Britain in the Near East. Greece, impelled by the vanity and vaulting ambitions of Constantinople, began a foolish war of aggression against Asia Minor. Greece was decisively beaten and deserved all she got. Now Greece is grimly determined to hold her position in Thrace, the former Turkey-in-Europe, at all costs. She will be a factor in any fighting in the Near East.

Turkey made a solemn pact at Angora three years ago to restore the ancient glory of the empire. Under Mustafa Kemal Pasha she is well on the way to accomplish this. All the former Turkey-in-Europe is now her domain. Kemal is master of Asia Minor. Agitation carefully nurtured among the Moslems in Afghanistan, Mesopotamia, Palestine and Egypt is strengthening his hand. Nothing will keep him from setting forth after Thrace and Constantinople but doubt of being able to carry the program through, and there will be no doubt unless there is an overwhelming military force in the way. Russia, cool enough toward the Kemalists until they had trounced Greece, now accords them the strongest opposition, but her support is the constant threat of military action with all the force of the red army, a Balkan military machine. Russia is taking her foreign policy from Germany now, and through Russia Turkey is getting all possible German assistance. Bulgaria would welcome war in the Balkans and would like to help Turkey as to strike a blow at the Kemalists. Italy has been endeavoring to propitiate the Kemalists. Italy has Moslem sympathies and is well known to keep Turkish friendship if possible. In the last test Britain can count on the support of Italy. Italy's interest is to prevent war in the Balkans, and she will do all the capital expenditure required for 1923 having been provided in previous sales.

Palestina, all see an immense current of unrest against the British. Twice the British authorities in India have found it necessary to warn them that a policy antagonistic to Turkey would cause trouble on religious grounds. But it was a matter of life or death to Britain, and so the unrest has continued to spread. Rumania and Jugoslavia will be in the war as a result of the Turkish crosses again into Europe. They will fight to the death to prevent the British from displacing France without entering the fray. Poland's position is one of difficult defense.

It is the most horrible mess that national greed and vanity and jealousy and hatred and religious antagonism have ever cooked up. The central figure is Kemal. With him rests the issue of comparative peace with time for conferences and discussions, or a new world war which may also become a religious war. Great Britain has decided, and decided wisely, that the most powerful argument that can be used to influence Kemal's decision is to display an overwhelming military strength. She is now engaged in carrying out that policy, and is asking assurances of support from the dominions.

What is regarded as a very good sale of debentures for the province of Alberta was made this week, when $3,000,000 debentures were sold to the National City Company of New York and Montreal, through which the tender was made, the price being $73.34. The sale is for the entire issue, the proceeds of which are to be used by the government for refunding purposes, and the sale indicates that the province of Alberta is in a very strong financial position.

Business Recovery Business barometers are all pointing to a better times. The big coal strikes are settled. The railway strikes are nearing adjustment. The recovery in the coal industry is a big thing in the Atlantic trade. For food products the dollar is going much further than it has for some time past. The price of wheat has been a high price for some time past, and this is a great thing in the grain trade. The price of wheat has been a high price for some time past, and this is a great thing in the grain trade. The price of wheat has been a high price for some time past, and this is a great thing in the grain trade.

Important Industrial Announcements Two announcements of much importance to Alberta have been made this week. One is that the research department of the University of Alberta has found a process by which a large proportion of the sand in the Athabasca tar sands can be removed, and the residue can be used as a commercial commodity for road making and other purposes. MR. MARTIN STATES HIS CASE

R.R. A. Red Deer, Alta. September 21, 1922

The Editor of The News: Dear Sir, I am writing you the considerable amusement Mr. Amos Wilton's reply to my challenge to debate on the Alberta Liquor Act.

Before going any further Mr. Editor, I would wish to point out that I made no statement of bad faith, and in a courteous manner.

If Mr. Wilton desires to treat it as a challenge, he is perfectly at liberty to do so.

However, if you will look up the files of the Advocate and News for the past two years, it will be plain that Mr. Wilton has said so repeatedly, repeated himself so often, and in such a manner, and the questions at issue, that I think you will agree it is time he proved some of his statements.

A public debate under strict rules is the best way to show up the questions at issue. I will quote the questions asked:

(1) Did the vote of 1915 and the vote of 1920 represent the will of the majority of the people of Alberta in respect to the Liquor Traffic in Alberta?

(2) Has the enforcement of the law in respect to the Liquor Traffic brought about in a reasonable degree the results aimed at, by the vote of the majority of the people of Alberta in the two plebiscites above referred to?

Rules for debate, as is usual, except that no one is to make a statement of fact by either side may be required to be sworn to, failing their proof to be proved out.

I would direct Mr. Wilton's attention to the fact that I am quite within my rights in making such statements, and naming the questions to be proved. This is not a vendueville or a "hot" debate, but a fair one.

Mr. Wilton's statements are of sufficient value to cause Red Deer to defend. I would suggest that the two keep these utterances at Great Bend.

I also promise Mr. Wilton that he cannot shut his mouth. He will be unmannerly to take or leave this challenge under the terms of my letter of Sept. 2nd. He may wait until October 16th, 1922, to do so.

I trust that he will see his way clear to answer this challenge with equal attempt to beludge the issue.

Thanking you, I am, Sir, Yours very truly,

A. W. MARTIN

FEW VETERANS RETURN FARMS TO GOVERNMENT

Out of 28,000, Only Twenty-Two Hundred Settlers Give Up Land.

Ottawa, Sept. 22.—In all Canada, out of 28,000 farms taken up by returned soldiers, only twenty-two hundred are now "in process of adjustment."

This phrase means that the soldiers' settlement board has that number of farms temporarily back on its hands, because of the failure of the returned soldier to adjust himself to the conditions of the original settler, domestic troubles or other cause, including crop failure.

In a considerable number of cases re-sales have been effected and the property is occupied, but the document is not returned to the government.

The number of returned farms is much smaller than the above. Of 485 farms taken, 56 have come back, and in the maritime provinces 65 out of 1,800. The present has been such a slow one.

It is thought the most of the settlers will be able to meet their obligations, which will be a great relief to the government.

Wherever possible, the farms reserved for civilians are being offered to Canadian soldiers returning from the States. The government is anxious to start a movement of repatriation, and is meeting with considerable success, as land is cheaper here than across the border.

Reason for Celibacy

"Why have I never married?" The confirmed bachelor repeated a leading question. "Well, once upon a time in a crowd of fellows I was down. She turned, furiously, beginning: 'You clumsy brute!' Then she smiled sweetly at me. I bet your pardon, I thought you were my husband. No, it really doesn't matter in the least. I don't want to think it over. I decided that I'd better let marriage alone."

Found guilty of manslaughter in Noel, his former friend and benefactor, the man with the death of Gustave, Clayton Court, was given a life sentence at Chatham, Ont., Wednesday.

With the reaching of an agreement between the management and the Montreal Daily Star with the International Typographical union, all Montreal daily newspapers, except the Herald, have signed up new contracts with their typographers.

Great Britain

The municipal tramway authorities demand for a reduction of 12 shillings per ton, the wages of their employees has been unanimously rejected by the special conference of the transport workers' daily newspaper, representing 55,000 men in all parts of the United Kingdom.

Sir R. S. Horne, chancellor of the exchequer, will be the leading member of the British debt delegation that is to visit the United States.

Speaking at Grosvenor, Wednesday, Sir Griffith Boscawen, minister of agriculture, said the farming industry of Great Britain was passing through a very serious crisis.

An alarming picture of internal conditions in Germany in consequence of the poor harvest and the "unfathomable demands" of her late enemies, was drawn by Dr. Karl Winter, German chancellor, in his speech at the Berlin correspondent of the Westminister Gazette. Germany's only hope, he intimated, lay in America.

We would strongly advise you to place your orders immediately for your requirements in this High-grade Coal, which is mined by modern machinery and is the best prepared coal we have ever received from this field. We have the exclusive agency for Red Deer and District for this Coal and also for the Alexco Coal from Saunders Creek.

SUNSHINE DRUMHELLER COAL

We have just received our first car, since the strike, of this most popular Stove Coal, which was so much in demand last season for both kitchen and steam boiler use, and to those who have not tried out this splendid coal, may we suggest that you try a half-ton order on our absolute guarantee of satisfaction basis. We would also appreciate your order for your requirements in Drumheller Sunshine Lump Coal, which is the best from that field.

To our old Black Diamond Coal customers we would like to say we are again the exclusive agents for this coal for the coming season, and would appreciate an order for your requirements in this coal before the rush begins.

We are also agents for the Edmonton Pen Coal. Call in and let us explain this coal to you.
We have just received a car of Lump and a car of Nut from the Dinant Mine. This coal is well known here as we have handled it for the past eight years, it needs no introduction. For a cheap coal it is absolutely the best on the market.
